What is your biggest takeaway message from each of the tasks for this assignment? Our biggest takeaway from this assignment is learning how to create visualizations using D3 and the learning about the different components of D3. Another takeaway is how creating visualizations with D3 differs from creating visualizations without it.

b) Did both of you put your best effort into this assignment? If not, what obstacle got in your way and how can you avoid it in future assignments?

Both of us put the best effort into this assignment. One obstacle that got in our way was having small bugs that caused the graphs to not show up. In the future this can be avoided or more quickly corrected by utilizing class notes and referencing code done in lecture.

c) (Each partner individually) Name one contribution your partner made to this assignment that you are proud of.

Preethi:I am proud of my partner's work on the creation of the bar graph. The bar graph was well created and the creation of the tooltip to go along with it was also done well.

Aadya: My partner's work on creating the scatterplot was well done. It was clear and nicely organized.
